About Our Organization

- Habitat's mission is to transform lives and communities by providing low-income families an opportunity to help build and then purchase an affordable home.
- Families are selected based on their housing need, ability to repay the mortgage and willingness to partner.
- Funding for Habitat's mission comes from individual, corporate and foundation donations, monthly mortgage payments and sales of mortgages.

POINTS OF PRIDE

- More than 1,300 families served in Miami, to date, housing approximately 5,200 people.
- Thousands of local volunteers help fulfill our mission.
- Homes are sold to low-income families and are financed with 0% interest mortgages.
- Our foreclosure rate is less than one percent.
- Payments never exceed 30% of family's income.
- Families typically work at least 250 "sweat equity" hours building Habitat homes, including their own.

Women Building Up Women

Women Building Up Women is Habitat's women's philanthropy group dedicated to the construction of affordable homes in Miami for low-income single mothers and their families. Our Women Building Up Women events provide the opportunity for women to take a proactive step in serving their communities. The proceeds of this initiative will be directed toward the construction costs of a home for a single Mom.

Your Investment

The past few years have taught us the importance of a healthy, affordable place to call home. We look forward to hosting our Hard Hats & High Heels cocktail again this year as the need for affordable homes in Miami has become even more urgent.

We are working toward giving another low-income family the opportunity to purchase a home of their own. With the support of many corporations and individuals, we aim to raise enough funds to underwrite the cost of a home for at least one single mom.

Thanks to the generosity of many corporations and individuals, we have raised over $925,000 in the past 8 years and want to keep the momentum of the focus on families growing!

Please help us provide self-reliance, stability, and strength through shelter!
